“ I knew Hoyt when we were in the Army together. He was an honest and caring person who did his job well. He told lots of stories about his younger years that were well received. I tried connecting up with him when he visited Chicago, but he moved back east before we could do that. I really liked Hoyt.

Thank you so much, he always talked about his Army friends, I have heard him call so many names he really was an up right man. He moved to York PA. Then back to Arkansas.

“ Uncle Hoyt, one of the funniest stories I've even been told was when you tried to convince my mom to name me "Hortense" so my name would be like yours. I'll cherish the memories of you, aunt Ruthie, mama and daddy all fussing and laughing together. You will be missed and you are loved dearly.

Sincerely,

Your "Hortense" aka Sam

“ Uncle Hoyt used to pick us up and hold us up in the air.

I remember the tremble, yet strength of his arms, as we were no longer toddlers, and likely weighed more than 50 pounds.

He was handsome and garnished his surroundings with an award winning smile and penetrating eyes.

He will be missed.
