Levurne "LV" London, born September 17, 1940, in Saint Charles, Arkansas departed this world peacefully surrounded by loved ones in Forrest City, Arkansas on May 21, 2024. He was preceded in death by his parents, President London and Mary Williams, all 12 of his siblings, son Lee Brown, daughter Patricia McKeown, granddaughter Sheena Brown, and grandson Antonio London. His memory will forever be held in the hearts of his surviving family: his wife Ella London, daughters: Mildred Perkins of Haynes, Arkansas, Evelyn Brown of Byron, Georgia, and Loretha Grussendorf of Austin, Texas, sons: Larry London, Carlos London, and Quantez London all of Forrest City, Arkansas, Darryn London of Marianna, Arkansas, and Levurne London of Fort Eustis, Virginia, and a host of grandchildren, nieces, and nephews.

In 1961, LV married his beloved wife, Ella London, who remained at his bedside until his passing. They were a perfect balance for one another because unlike Ella, LV was not a man of many words. His quiet demeanor masked a depth of understanding and insight that those close to him revered. He was skillful at fixing things, authoritative, and had a love for a one-handed basketball hook. Together, they raised 10 children who would go on to describe their father as the most steadfast and loving figure in their lives. LV's dedication to his family was unwavering; he was an amazing husband, father, and eventually, a doting grandfather whose gentle presence was a constant source of comfort and joy.

LV's days were marked by simple pleasures that spoke to his soul. He had a deep fondness for Coke and peanuts, a combination that brought him joy and a sense of contentment. These small indulgences were a testament to his appreciation for life's simple gifts. His love for tractors was another defining aspect of his character. He spent countless hours tending to his land, finding peace and purpose in the rhythmic work of the fields. His tractors were not just machines to him but companions on his life's journey, each one a witness to his enduring work ethic and commitment to the land.

The legacy of LV is one of love, hard work, and quiet strength. His ability to weather life's storms with grace and fortitude was a source of inspiration to all who knew him. He left an indelible mark on all who knew him, a testament to a life well-lived and a man deeply cherished. His passing on May 21, 2024, marked the end of an era, but the values and love he imparted to his family and friends continue to resonate. The journey of LV London was a beautiful tapestry woven with love, wisdom, and the simple joys of life
