“ We loved Sis. Loretta as soon as we met her. We met her through her daughter and grandchildren at church. Not so long after moving to OKC, she joined the 5th Street Baptist church usher board and served faithfully. We will always remember her gentle, sweet spirit on that back row!
Miranda, thanks for sharing Mom with us!

“ Dwayne and Miranda, I regret that circumstances will not allow me to travel. If I could I would be with you as you go through this experience. Please know that my thoughts and prayers will be with you on tomorrow. You had a good and beautiful mother. She is now resting with Jesus, a place we seek. Good bye is hard, but your mother is fine right now. I love you one and I love you all. Thomas E. Ball, Atlanta, GA

When special people are talked about Loretta is top of the list. I lived in Loretta home as a very young man. She was married to my cousin-brother. I graduated high school in 1975 immediately went Chicago. Seven-teen years old introvert, country boy. Loretta was patient, caring, forgiving, understanding she gave me enough time to mature find myself, year later when I would thank her she would smile and say I glad so happy you doing good. when you think of special people Loretta is top of list. I don't pray for Loretta no need Loretta prayed for her self, and me and you

SPECIAL. THANK YOU LORETTA Curtis Johnson

“ Loretta and I met in fourth grade at Evans Elementary School. We remained friends until the day she passed. I loved her early even when I did not like her. Her quietness and humility was an anchor. We were often mistaken for the other which caused me more than a few explanations with my mother as I was often reported as slipping off school grounds when she would go home for lunch in our Junior high days. Her neighbor and my school bus driver Harvey Jones would call mother and tell her he saw me off campus. To this day I have VERY bad feelings about Harvey Lee. After high school we continued to share good times in Chicago. I spoke with her a few days before she passed and I believe she was at peace with God. I know she was a woman of Faith and Love. I will miss her hope to see her again .Goodbye Lo.
