“ "Wal-lee" as I would say his name, you greeted my heart well. I would had never let you think your trip to Del Valle high school in Texas was wasted. I'll miss my cousin who as a teenager in the 1980s would get on that city bus just to take me to the roller skating rink every Friday just to win those single races to get in free Friday all over again. I felt safe, even if we missed the last bus, it still felt safe. College is expensive, but just visiting you is what I'm going to have to get over because I cared for your mind first before my own material selfishness. I found out this morning and I thought, I never heard you say happy birthday. I prayed for you when I wouldn't talk to you. Cousin Walter Lee you were the best roller skater I ever skated with. I'm sure I'll have more to say, but I've always been happy to have met you. Tootsie rolls are still on my list of favorites. I'll miss that dimpled smile too. I just want to hug you again, but I'll be just fine

“ My condolence to Juanita & the entire family. Walter, my bonus nephew... The last time I saw Walter Lee, he had come to my house to bring me dinner, There was a get together at his god moms house. I open the door, not expecting to see Walter, there he was with that big smile on his face. I told him he didn't have to do that and he said "Aunt Quinlock, you got to eat too. He gave me a hug and told me he love me. I will always cherish fun memories of Walter and his kind and unique ability to make you smile. Uncle Forrest & I will miss you dearly.
